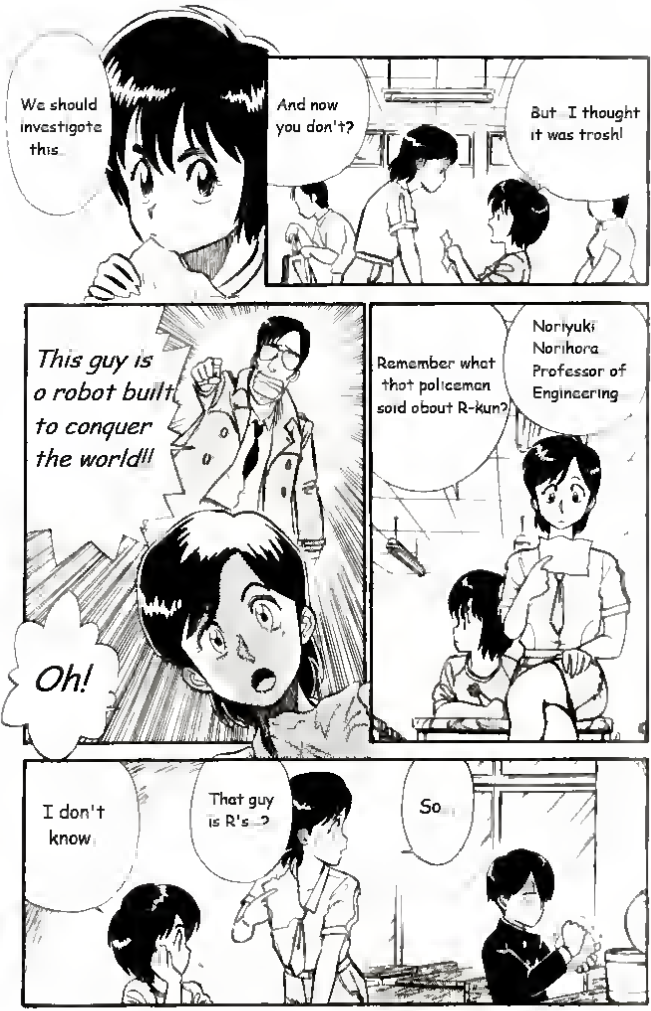
Ugh it's all sticky
You know that coat we returned to the policeman at lunch right?
Hey what is that?
You're a thief!
This note was in the pocket.
Um...



We should investigate this.
And now you don't?
But I thought it was trash!
This guy is a robot built to conquer the world!!!
Oh!
Remember what that policeman said about R-kun?
Noriyuki Norihora Professor of Engineering
I don't know.
That guy is R's...?
So...

So, this Nariyuki Narihara character is involved with R somehow?
Well, well, well, well!

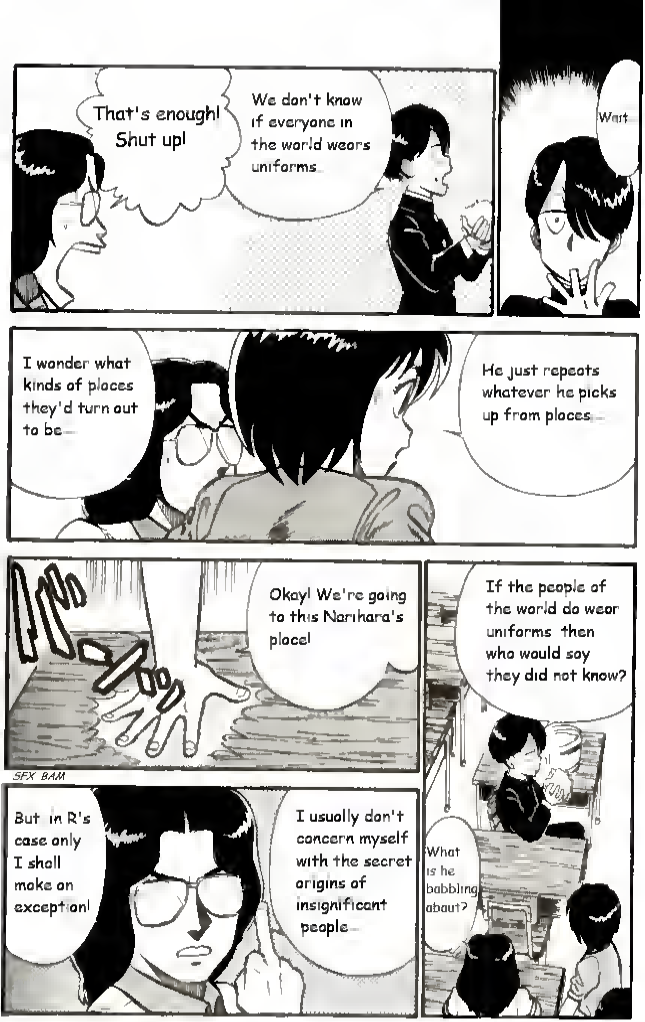
Is it not said that wherever you go in the world, uniforms are worn?
In short...



That's enough! Shut up!
We don't know if everyone in the world wears uniforms...
Wait...
I wonder what kinds of places they'd turn out to be...
He just repeats whatever he picks up from places...
Okay! We're going to this Narihara's place!
If the people of the world do wear uniforms then who would say they did not know?
SFX BAM
But in R's case only I shall make an exception!
I usually don't concern myself with the secret origins of insignificant people...
What is he babbling about?

That's not what you should be saying
Now now...
"The apple doesn't fall far from the tree!"
For, as the saying goes...

Someone please shut him up
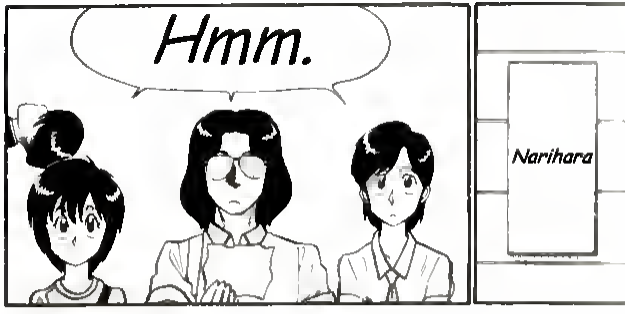
Uniforms are black because when you see Earth from a satalite it is pitch black in space.



Hmm.
Narihara

It looks like a normal house doesn't it?

Translation notes

p 173
R is going on and on about uniforms because in Japanese the words 'conquer' and 'uniform' are homophones They are both pronounced 'seifuku', the kanji is just different I tried to bring about the same feeling with 'unify' and 'uniform'

p 178
Professor Narihara is based off of an actual school friend of Aki Tomato's at Itabashi Highschool who was nicknamed "Caveman Nanmasu" Narihara He was also the personality model for R himself

I bet some of you noticed the new name Nothing has really changed I just started a group because I am taking on some new projects I made a small Google site for anyone interested in what is coming up and soon I'll have all the manga I put up here available for download as well
